Wave Weekend, which took place from November 12th to 14th, 2021, at Tulane, was a fun-filled time where students, staff, faculty, alumni reveled in the special bond that makes us all Tulanians.

Events with the School of Public Health and Tropical Medicine started with a meet and greet reception with Bachelor of Science in Public Health parents, faculty, undergraduates, and alumni.

Friday night was an all-alumni reunion and reception at Central City BBQ. Alumni, faculty, and students were able to mix and mingle while enjoying food and drinks.

On Saturday, many affiliates joined us at our tailgating tent on the Berger Family Lawn for sandwiches and drinks before heading to Yulman Stadium to watch the Green Wave play the Tulsa Golden Hurricane.
