

2016 Tulane Awards Ceremony Photo Gallery

|

Tara Brown tbrown19@tulane.edu

View PDF

Congratulations to the class of 2016! Before an audience of friends, family, and faculty, talented public health graduate students (and a few faculty) were honored and recognized last week with awards and distinctions from the School of Public Health and Tropical Medicine and individual departments. At just about the same time, the undergraduates participated in an awards program on the uptown campus. We recognize our exemplary students and commend them on their achievements, below. Click here to see the full list of award recipients.